and Emily Jane Clark. He married Ada Myrtle Gardner, who was born September 10, 1895, at Wallburg, to Ada Ellen Penrod and George Albert Gardner. Myrtle died June 2, 1927, when 33 years of age. Ellis died January 11, 1941, at 48. Both are buried in Wallburg.

Ellis spent most of his life farming, ranching and working with livestock. He also was superintendent of the Sunday School, counselor in the Y.M.C.A. and a counselor in the bishopric.

Myrtle was always working in the Church. She was secretary of the Primary for years. For some time they lived in the lower part of the valley, so she and a sister-in-law would go to the field catch horses, harness them, hitch them to the wagon and take as many as nine children and go Relief Society teaching. When they were through they would each go to their mother's for dinner.

Myrtle always took a basket of mending to do the hour or two she would have to visit with her mother. Then, loading all the children into the wagon, they would go turn in the afternoon, tired, but happy they had completed their assignment.

Ellis and Ada's children were: Ellis Berdell, Berta, Charley G., Nola, Lois, Stanley and Ada Myrtle.
